The first video from rapper Eminem's upcoming album, The Marshall Mathers LP (May 23), debuted this week on MTV. (Sonicnet.com's parent company, Viacom, also owns MTV.)

The clip for "The Real Slim Shady," co-directed by the controversial lyricist's mentor, Dr. Dre, features Eminem rapping in the dayroom of a mental institution. It also shows the rapper preaching to a roomful of Eminem lookalikes while he sings the refrain "I'm Slim Shady/ Yes, I'm the real Shady/ All you other Slim Shadys are just imitating/ So won't the real Slim Shady please stand up."

In one scene, Eminem is seen sitting at a faux Grammy ceremony next to Limp Bizkit leader Fred Durst and a lookalike of MTV's "Total Request Live" host Carson Daly, who are battling over a blow-up doll of teen singer Christina Aguilera.

Rappers Redman and Method Man also make cameos in the clip, as does former "Talk Radio" cast member Kathy Griffin.
